Meeting To-night at Hare's Hotel.

A grand Union Republican meeting will be held this evening, on Liberty street, in front of Hare's Hotel, foot of Fifth street. Among the speakers who will positively be in attendance are Governor Geary, Hon. R. Stockett Matthews, of Maryland, one of the ablest stumpers in the country; Hon. James H. Campbell, late Minister to Sweden, and Hon. Galusha A. Grow. Hon. Andrew G. Curtin is also expected to be present. It is hoped that the political organizations of the several wards and boroughs will be fully represented at the meeting. Every voter is invited to be present, to hear the great issues of this most important campaign ably discussed.

It is represented that the liberated Russian serfs all over the Kingdom are making good use of their liberty, and rapidly rising in the scale of human existence. The masters, though at first dissatisfied with the Imperial Ukase, are becoming convinced of its justice and wisdom, and master and slave now live together upon harmonious terms as freemen.

THE Pneumatic Railway Company proposes to blow people from New York to Washington at a speed which will leave the slow old railroad trains far behind. Stephenson will thus sink into the obscurity which has enveloped the man who first invented stage-coaches, and our grandchildren will wonder how we ever existed without Pneumatic tubes.

COMMENTING on the decadence of Royalty, a contemporary remarks that "when our Puritan ancestors chopped off the head of Charles the First, they did not deal the kingly office half so hard a blow as the Prince of Wales did when he called upon Punch to request him not to make fun of his royal mother. England had long since deprived royalty of its prerogative, so that it has been only a costly pageant; but, now that it has lost its prestige, and can no longer command the superstitious reverence of the people, it is essentially gone altogether, and the mockery of a throne and a crowned head which are only a cost and not a power, cannot much longer be tolerated by a sensible people. Monarchy in England may be said to have died a natural death."

EXTENSIVE WHISKY SEIZURE.—The extensive distillery of J. R. Lawther, with all the fixtures, whisky, and real estate, in Mifflin county, Pennsylvania, a few miles north of Lewistown, in the Seventeenth District, was seized on Wednesday of last week, by J. K. Henderson, of Middletown, the Government agent and detective. The charge was for improperly shipping whisky on which the tax had not been paid, and for duplicating serial numbers, the amount of frauds being more than $115,000. The proof against the establishment is said to be conclusive. The transaction has been returned to the United States Court for the Western district of Pennsylvania, at Pittsburgh, and is the largest one of the kind ever tried in the district.

THE gunmaker Specht, of Berlin, has received a Chassepot gun similar to those adopted in the French army, and experiments have been made with it which, according to the Posen Gazette, have furnished important results. The Chassepot is certainly superior to the Prussian needle-gun. Competitive essays have been made with the two. More than fifty officers of all arms witnessed them. The Chassepot was in the hands of M. Specht, the needle-gun in those of one of the best marksmen in the garrison. The arrangement was to fire with each weapon for a minute. The needle-gun was the first; it fired eight rounds and struck the target eight times. The Chassepot fired ten shots, and was loaded the eleventh time within the minute; it also reached the target eight times. The two guns were afterward fired together during half a minute; the needle-gun discharged 4 rifle shots, the Chassepot five. Six of them were found to have struck the target, but from which of the guns was not known.

President Johnson has received a letter from A. H. Stephens, of Georgia, in which he says he never expects to appear in public again. He is ill of a complication of complaints, and is too weak to leave his house. The President will pardon him at once, in order that Stephens may die an American citizen.

Omaha dispatches say Commissioner Taylor is denying the reports of correspondents from the council at North Platte. The reporters reaffirm their statements and say Pawnee Killer did leave the council and painted his forehead as a token of war, and rode away in disgust. They also say it is believed by those who best know the Indian character, that the chiefs who did profess peace, made promises only to gain time and ammunition.

An affray took place at one of the Washington hotels, between Senator Patterson, of Tennessee, and General Kyle of the same State. Patterson slapped Kyle's face, whereupon Kyle knocked him down. Patterson then attempted to shoot Kyle, when friends interfered. After conciliation then took place—they shook hands and "took a drink."

A Washington correspondent says: General Hancock authorizes a denial of the statement that he will not go to New Orleans until the abatement of the yellow fever. As soon as he gets through with his private business at St. Louis he will proceed to his headquarters in Louisiana. Gen. Hancock says he now supports Gen. Grant, Gen. Sheridan, Congress and the people against Johnson, in the matter of reconstruction. Another Democrat turned Radical.

The President of the New Orleans Howard Association has received sufficient money to defray the expenses of the Association thus far. He has acknowledged in the dailies the receipts of liberal donations from all the principal cities in the North. The expenses at present are twenty thousand dollars per day, and as the the epidemic is on the increase, the Association asks for a continuance of the liberal aid thus far extended them.

NASHVILLE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

Threatened Riot on Saturday.

Dr. Blackburn not Pardoned by Recent Amnesty Proclamation.

Health of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.
WASHINGTON, September 24, 1867.

Trouble at Nashville.

The President to-day received a lengthy telegraphic dispatch from a delegation of Conservative citizens of Nashville, Tennessee, earnestly soliciting the interference of the Government to prevent a civil outbreak in that city. They represent the matter as very threatening, and proceed at length to state what they regard as the facts in the premises. The city authorities it seems, declare that they intend to hold the mayoralty election on Saturday next, under the amended charter of 1858, in disregard of Brownlow's proclamation, which insists that it shall be held under the franchise law, giving the negroes the right to vote. The local authorities declare that they are ready to fight the armed State militia, while the State officials in turn declare that the franchise law shall be enforced, if it brings every armed man in Tennessee to Nashville. The telegrams show a condition of things that has warranted the Government in entering a State that is not within the military districts provided in the reconstruction acts, and assuming command. General Grant sent a dispatch to General Geo. H. Thomas to-night at Louisville, ordering him to proceed at once to Nashville, and take command and maintain the peace at the point of the bayonet. Gen. Grant says: "You will be supplied with all of the troops that are necessary." The President and Gen. Grant believe that Gen. Thomas will prevent an outbreak, although the Government has not undertaken to decide as to which party is right.

Case of Dr. Blackburne.

The Cabinet to-day had before them the case of Dr. Blackburne, who was a rebel agent in Canada during the war, and attempted to introduce yellow fever into the United States on behalf of the Confederates. It seems on the sixth of this month he took the oath of allegiance before the Consul at Toronto, and claimed the benefit of the amnesty proclamation. The case was referred here, and was to-day decided that Blackburne came within the exceptions of foreign agents, and was not pardoned by the recent proclamation.

Undecided.

The President has not decided to give Gen. Sickles a Court of Inquiry, or to grant Fitz John Porter a new trial.

Cabinet Day.

To-day being Cabinet day no visitors were admitted at the Executive Mansion. All the members of the Cabinet were present except Postmaster General Randall and Secretary Browning, who are absent from the city. The latter was represented by Assistant Secretary Otto.

Grant and Sheridan.

A large number of visitors were at the War Department this morning, and many of them had an interview with Gen. Grant. Gen. Sheridan was with Gen. Grant and had a long interview.

Unfounded Report.

A report was in circulation to-day that Thaddeus Stevens died this morning. It is not true, as a dispatch was received from Lancaster this forenoon from his ward, stating that he continued to improve.

Frauds in the Pay Department.

General Sheridan was before the Committee of Congress to-day, who are investigating the frauds in the Pay Department. The Committee afterwards adjourned until the meeting of Congress.

Appointment.

The President has appointed James D. McBride, of Ohio, a Lieutenant in the Fourth Regular Artillery. He was at one time Colonel of the Eighth United States colored troops, and Brevet Brigadier General.

WASHINGTON, September 24.
INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Upon the recommendation of the Indian Bureau, the Secretary of the Interior has directed that the agency for the Osage, Inapaws, Seneca and Shawnee Indians be transferred from the Southern to the Central Superintendency, headquarters at Atchison.

The following telegram from Hon. N. G. Taylor, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, was received at the Indian Bureau this morning:

"OMAHA, September 23.—Our council with the Indians at North Platte was perfectly satisfactory, and the prospects of peace with the Indians are more flattering than at any time. The Apaches, Arapahoes, Kioways, Camanches and friendly Cheyennes are willing, if the other Cheyenne will not make peace, to subjugate them if the Government will furnish ammunition, so Superintendent Murphy informs me."

WOOSTER, OHIO.

Grand Republican Demonstration---Speeches of Gen. Hayes and Speaker Colfax---Democratic Meetings.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.
WOOSTER, O., September 24, 1867.

The Republican mass meeting here to-day was a great demonstration, larger, it is claimed, than any that has been held since the Brough campaign. It was held on the fair grounds, and presided over by Josiah Given, Esq., an old-time Democrat from Coshocton county.

Gen. Hayes spoke for about an hour, and was followed by Speaker Colfax in a speech occupying about three hours in its delivery. In regard to impeachment Mr. C. said he longingly counted the days till Congress would again meet, when Andrew Johnson would be brought before the Senate for impeachment, and in regard to the threat attributed to the President that he would prorogue Congress, he said that Mr. Johnson dare not attempt it, for well he knew the end would be that his feet would dance upon air, while the law making power would continue to perform its functions. These sentiments were received with great applause.

Mr. Colfax speaks in Sandusky City to-morrow, his last speech in the State during the campaign.

A large Democratic meeting was held in Millersburg to-day, and another will be held in Mansfield to-morrow.

VIRGINIA.

Eligibility of Delegates---Soldiers and Sailors' Convention---Tobacco Factory Burned.

RICHMOND, September 24.—General Schofield has decided that the only restriction imposed upon eligibility to membership of the State Convention is having taken an oath to the United States, and afterwards aided the rebellion.

Delegates are arriving to the Soldiers and Sailors' Convention, which meets here to-morrow.

The tobacco factory of Reuben Ragland, at Petersburg, was burnt this morning. Loss $250,000; insured for $80,000.

About one hundred delegates to the Soldiers and Sailors' Convention arrived to-night. A caucus was held and a platform determined on as follows: Equal rights before the law, encouragement of education, more equal taxation, and a fostering of the industrial interests of the State.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Union Nominations---The Party United---Statistics.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 24.—The Union County Convention of San Francisco have nominated Cowler and Blake, present incumbents, for County and Probate Judge, and Lonberback for Police Judge. The party is united on these nominations, and in the support of Currie for Justice of the Supreme Court, and Swift, State Superintendent of Instruction. The independent press, which opposed Gorham, urges the election of all the above candidates.

The statistics of County Assessors throughout the State show a material increase in property values, improved land and the amount of agricultural products and manufactures.

Polytechnic College of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, September 24.—The Polytechnic College of Pennsylvania began its fifteenth annual session to-day. The classes are well filled, particularly in the Mining and Engineering departments.

GENERAL HANCOCK.

Serenade by the Conservatives.

Speeches of Gen. Hancock and the President.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.
WASHINGTON, September 24, 1867.

The serenade to General Hancock to-night was an immense affair. Four bands were in attendance. The hotel was illuminated and there was a brilliant display of fireworks. In response to great cheering, Gen. Hancock came forward and spoke as follows:

Citizens of Washington: I thank you for this testimony of your appreciation of my past services, and confidence in my ability to perform my duty in a new and different sphere. Educated as a soldier in the military school of our country, and on the fields of the Mexican war and American rebellion, I need not assure you that my course as a distinct commander will be characterized by the same strict soldierly obedience to the law there taught me. As a soldier I know no other guide. Misrepresentation and misconstruction, arising from the passions of the hour, and spread by those who do not know that devotion to duty has governed my actions in every trying hour, may meet me. But I fear them not. My highest pride will be to perform the duties of my new sphere, not in the interest of parties or partisans, but for the benefit of my country, the honor of my profession and, I trust, also for the welfare of the people committed to the care. I ask then citizens that I may not be judged in advance, and that time may be permitted to develop my actions. Judge me when I act by the deeds I may perform, and conscious of my devotion to duty and my country, I shall be satisfied with your verdict. And if a generous country shall approve my actions in the future as it has in the past, my highest ambition will have been achieved. As a soldier, I am to administer them in spirit with the laws which govern, and if to the satisfaction of my country, I shall indeed be happy in the consciousness of a duty performed. [Applause.] I am about to leave your city, the capital of our country, bearing the proud name of "Washington." As an American citizen, the rapid development and increase of its wealth, beauty and prosperity is a matter in which I am deeply interested. But far, far beyond this, citizens of Washington, I rejoice with you that in the trying hour of the rebellion, the capital of our nation contributed as freely in proportion as any State of this Union to the brave volunteer army which has demonstrated to the world the strength and invincibility of a republican form of Government. [Applause.] I shall carry with me the recollections of this ovation, and when I return may I not hope that those who are here present in unison or in spirit, will regret their participation in the honor you have done me to-night. [Applause.]

The band afterwards proceeded to the White House, when the President spoke for a few minutes. He said that the country was in great peril, and he urged every man to rally to its support. The crowd cheered "for the man who was not afraid to be shot at," and dispersed amid much excitement. The President seemingly spoke with great feeling.

CLEVELAND.

Speeches of Gov. Cox and Col. Jewett---Pendleton's Greenback Scheme.

CLEVELAND, September 24.—Gov. Cox and H. J. Jewett are addressing a Republican meeting here to-night. Cox's speech is devoted to Pendleton's scheme for paying the National debt in greenbacks. It is an able address, and exhaustive of the subject. Regarding greenbacks and bonds he says, they are alike promises to pay dollars, i. e., so many grains of silver or gold, as are defined by law, and alike valuable as they pay that promise. The object of design was to issue greenbacks instead of bonds, but Chase's counsel to the contrary prevailed. The speaker said that in case of the issue of greenbacks instead of bonds, or in case of bonds, a depreciation proportionate to the increase of circulation must take place, and beyond this, so large an issue, creating doubts of the intention of the Government ever to redeem in coin, would cause a still further depreciation and ultimate worthlessness, and made the monetary and revenue points that a war with the republican form of Government. [Applause.] I shall carry with me the recollections of this occasion, and when I return may I not hope that those who are here present in unison or in spirit, will regret their participation in the honor you have done me to-night. NEW ORLEANS.

Yellow Fever Interments---Terrible Ravages of the Epidemic at Lagrange, Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, September 24.—The interments from yellow fever, for the twenty-four hours ending this morning, were eighty-two.

Letters from Lagrange, Texas, state that the number of citizens remaining in town is barely five hundred, yet the interments reached twenty-four in two days. The disease is proving fatal in nine cases out of ten. Every house is filled with sickness and death, and whole families are swept away. The disease is spreading in the country. There are no provisions in town, and the country people will not venture in with produce. On the 9th not even meat could be had to make gruel for the sick. Business has ceased entirely, the stores are closed, newspapers have ceased publication, and the jail has been emptied of its inmates, who fled in terror from the scene of desolation.

THE STATE FAIR.

ARRIVAL OF GOV. GEARY.

HIS RECEPTION.

General Roberts's Address of Welcome.

THE GOVERNOR'S REPLY.

The Exhibition Auspiciously Opened

THE PROGRAMME FOR TO-DAY.

Notices, &c., &c., &c.

Yesterday was the opening day of the State Fair, the chief feature being the arrival of His Excellency Governor John W. Geary, who delivered the opening address. The attendance for the first day was unusually large, and a commendable spirit was manifested by both exhibitors and the public.

Arrival of the Governor.

At half-past one o'clock, the Committee appointed to receive the Governor left the Monongahela House and proceeded in carriages to the Union Depot. A large concourse of people had collected on the platform, when it was announced by officers of the road that the train was thirty-five minutes behind time. This information, however, did not have the effect of dispersing the crowd, and upon the arrival of the train at least two thousand persons had congregated to bid the Governor welcome to the city. The Great Western Brass Band was present, and played a number of popular airs. The train arrived shortly after two o'clock, and when Governor Geary made his appearance on the platform he was received with enthusiastic cheers, which he acknowledged by removing his hat and bowing to the crowd. He was then taken in charge by General S. Negley and A. L. Pearson, who conducted him to the entrance of the depot, where carriages were in waiting. A procession was then formed in the following order:

Great Western Brass Band.
Maj. Gens. Negley and Pearson, Lieut. Cook and Capt. Gerhard, U. S. Regular army.
Carriage containing Gov. Geary, Hon. Moses Hampton, A. Bryan Hall, Esq., and J. R. Dunlap, Esq., Secretary to the Governor.
Carriage containing Gen. Roberts and Col. Fred. H. Collier, Gen. Charles Barnes.
Gen. Josiah Given and Col. Joseph Woods.

Deputations from a number of fire companies of the city and county of Allegheny.

As the procession proceeded to the Park, Penn street was crowded with men, women and children, and the Governor was cheered throughout the entire route. While passing the Fifth Ward Public School House he was warmly welcomed by the pupils who had congregated in the school grounds, and the carriage was duly acknowledged. A number of private residences were also passed, and at the corner of Penn and Highland streets, and Penn and Negley avenues, the Governor was cheered throughout the entire route. At the grounds the procession halted, and the Governor was escorted to the platform, when he was introduced to the audience by Gen. Negley, who spoke as follows:

Governor Geary—Allow me, on behalf of the Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society, to welcome you to the Fair Grounds of the Society, and to congratulate you upon the success of the present exhibition.

Governor Geary, who stood in his carriage a few feet in front of the platform, responded as follows:

Address of Governor Geary.

GENERAL ROBERTS—I trust that you, sir, and the citizens of Pittsburgh will accept my sincere thanks for this most gracious and enthusiastic welcome. That some of my old friends, my companions—companions of my youth—and comrades on the field, would be present to welcome me, sir, was not expected by me, and to express the feelings of one's heart under such circumstances is impossible; but such an overwhelming welcome as this

OUR CANDIDATE.

Hon. Henry W. Williams.

[From the Pittsburgh Post, June 28.]

WORTHY CANDIDATES.

"The nomination of Henry W. Williams as a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, is a good one. He was the best man named before the Republican Convention, and possesses legal and moral qualifications for the responsible position to which he has been nominated. Both parties have now presented their candidates. An important duty has been faithfully discharged by the respective conventions. The campaign may now be conducted without personal aspersions, and decided upon the principles of the two great parties. This is as it should be."

[From the Pittsburgh Post, August 28.]

If the notice of Judge Williams's nomination which appeared in the "Post" at the time, and now kept standing at the head of the Republican papers, is intended as a rebuke for any supposed inconsistency since, it falls in its purpose. We have nothing to take back or modify. Of Judge Williams's private or legal reputation we have nothing but words of praise, and however it may suit some pugnacious and heady politicians, we cannot bring ourselves to view personal assaults as either wise or politic. The Democracy plants itself upon principle and deals with facts, and discusses the public and official acts of candidates.

SECRETARY MCCULLOCH, it is understood, will speedily direct an investigation to be made into the practices of the Black Mailers, in connection with the revenue offices here and in this section of the country. Confident that it would come to this, as the result of our exposure, we have refrained from publishing such other facts as were in our possession. The public will be gratified with the action of the Secretary and not permit itself to doubt that the investigation will be thorough.

THE Democratic papers are making a fuss over the fact that the father of Gen. GRANT spoke at a Democratic meeting in Cincinnati last week; but they forget to publish what he said. Recollecting that RICHARD SMITH, Esq., is the Republican nominee for Congress, the reader is introduced to the following, which we find in a Cincinnati paper:

Mr. Carey was succeeded by Mr. J. R. Grant, the General's parent, who made the following astonishing remarks:

Gentlemen:—The lateness of the hour prevents me from making a speech. Between the two candidates for Congress, Mr. Smith and Mr. Carey, I will only say that you can judge them by their record. While one opposed the war, and did everything he could against it, the other favored it, and did everything he could for it. If this is a Democrat meeting, I advise you all to vote for Smith.

ONE would suppose, from the shrieks of the Post, that the question of negro suffrage was really in the present canvass, and the only question to be decided. It is no more a present question here than Mormonism. The attempt to divert the public mind from the fact that voting for the Democratic candidates will be but contributing to secure popular indorsement for ANDREW JOHNSON, shows conclusively how greatly the party fears that question. It appears on all hands that the President has paused in his revolutionary career for he indorsement which he has been promised in the result in Pennsylvania. This the Post well knows, and no man can deny it. And no voter should attempt to close his eyes to the fact that on his action may depend the the future of our country. A reckless, bad man is at the head of affairs. The slight Democratic gains of late have stimulated him to commit outrages against the loyal sentiment of the land and the vital interests of the nation. He contemplates still greater outrages, and waits only for the approval which the Democratic party has pledged to him. The question before the people is—shall he have it?

THE PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

The country is so deeply affected with the competitive spirit—in other words, with a fondness for seeing contests—that the Pennsylvania election would be an object of general interest, even if the issues were purely and exclusively local. But they are not exclusively local. No State politics at the present time are entirely disserved from National politics. And every Republican should arouse himself and go to the polls, with the consciousness that his ballot not only tells on the election of Judge, of Senator, of Assemblymen and of county officers, but also expresses his will, as he has expressed it for years past, on the great questions of the Union. The election in this Keystone State is, therefore, regarded with profound interest by the people of other States. This furnishes good reason why it should enlist the warm and energetic efforts of every Republican.

Let us give our readers a view of the approaching election, as taken from the unreconstructed rebel stand point. From a paper that fairly represents, as it did during the rebellion, the unaltered sentiment of secessionists we take and present the following extract:

"The contest in Pennsylvania will decide the question of party supremacy in the North, and upon the decision depends the fate of the South. If the revolutionary and incendiary party shall be fixed more firmly foot by the conservative and intelligent masses North, the country will be saved. If it shall be lost, the future is appalling. Let the issue at the ballot-box be against Radicalism, and we may look for the leaders who prate about impeachment now. It is only because they think they are strong before the people of the North that they keep up their bluster. Their cowardly souls will sink within them when they find that they have over-rated their strength."—Richmond Enquirer, September 21.

That is the way it looks from that quarter. It shows that the Republicans have to beat three parties in the coming elections—the Democrats who have the voting to do, the "individual" whose impeachment has been talked of and whose patronage is diligently sought, for effect on the election, and lastly the rebels who growl and show their teeth from their closed kennel door and threaten to bite and tear as soon as they get the chance. The above extract is a good campaign document, and it is as such that we give it a place for wide circulation in the COMMERCIAL. We hope especially that the threatened kicking, conditioned on their success, may be properly appreciated. It seems to be particularly designed for the "cowardly souls" who whipped the rebels into their present subjection.

There can be no doubt that from the Presidential mansion anxious eyes are turned towards Pennsylvania and Ohio at the present time. Democratic embassies are hurrying to the White House invoking the aid of the President in the Pennsylvania election, and only receiving the small moiety of encouragement that they can extract from his sorrowful, "O, that I could help you!" The present lull in Mr. JOHNSON'S activity is to be attributed to his fears of the approaching election. Should Republicans allow themselves to be beaten, "fantastic tricks" of revolution and usurpation may be expected. On the contrary their success will produce the "great calm" for which every good citizen so earnestly longs. Let every one, then, bestir himself, to beat, so that they will understand what it means, the three ply party with which the interests of the Union are confronted. The kicking that they insolently threaten is the smallest part of the mischief that would ensue, should traitors, recreants and Democrats gain a victory in the Pennsylvania elections.

CONSERVATIVE NOMINATIONS IN ALLEGHENY.

A call appeared in the daily newspapers of this city yesterday, inviting the supporters of ANDREW JOHNSON and "my Policy" to elect two delegates in each election district in the county, to meet in Convention on Wednesday next "to nominate a county ticket or to take such other measures as may be deemed necessary." This call is signed by twelve men and "over sixteen hundred others." The programme of these "Conservatives" is said to be to make up a ticket from those already in the field, as follows: For Senator, ANDREW BURT. For the Legislature, two or three names from the Labor ticket and the remainder from the Democratic ticket. On the question of county nominations, the "party" is divided, and none may be made. The object of this movement is, should any of the nominees be elected, to claim an indorsement of the President and his ruinous policy. No workingman of Republican principles, who believes the suppression of the rebellion was just, can lend himself to this scheme by voting other than the regularly nominated Republican ticket.

Montana Election.

The splendid Democratic victory over which the party has been exulting for some time past, is dwindling down to little or nothing. The actual returns show that the result is doubtful at the very worst for the Republicans. Madison county, in which Virginia City is situated, gave McLean, Copperhead, 532 majority in 1865. It gave Saunders, Republican, 200 majority at the late election. Jefferson county, which the Copps carried in 1865 by 11 majority, gives Saunders, Republican, 98 majority this year.

THE grain trade of Chicago on the 18th inst, was in excess of Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland, put together, by 124,129 bushels. The total receipts on that date were 446,061 bushels. The Tribune thinks Chicago can afford to blow—and she does.

THE New Orleans Price Current complains of the want of capital there to establish manufactures required to supply the demand of articles of ready sale. It says the entire resources of the banks, including capital and available deposits, are required to move the crops by the purchase of exchange and the discount of factors' paper for supplies furnished to the planter.

IN New York a movement is on foot to effect a political organization of the Germans, more especially for the purpose of influencing the legislation of the State on general and local affairs. Remarking thereon, the Tribune makes this observation: "We have nothing to say politically to Germans as such, but we earnestly advise such American citizens as were born in Germany to keep out of the snare here spread for them. Every German who embarks in politics as a German is an argument for an American party."

THE business of nearly all of Europe at the present moment is to prepare for war. The transformation of the firearms in the Italian army has been commenced at Turin. The government has decided that the Bersaglieri shall be the first provided with needle guns, and in order to arrive immediately at a uniformity in the exercise of the new musket, the Minister of War has ordered each of the forty-five battalions of those troops to send an officer and three sergeants to a special school established in the former capital of Italy.

THE London News of the 11th of September, speaking editorially of the conflict between President Johnson and the Congress of the United States, says:

It is, of course, extremely difficult even to guess at the probabilities of Mr. Johnson's course. Divided as his motives seem to be between self-will and fear, it is impossible to do more than guess either at the expectations on which his conduct is based, or at the future actions to which they may lead. But in the issue of the Amnesty proclamation there is probably a direct attempt to use his constitutional power to nullify the disfranchising clauses of the reconstruction acts.

A Philadelphia correspondent says: A pretty thorough canvass of this city by the Republican Executive Committee, shows that Judge Williams will go West with a majority of nearly five thousand. If this end is attained his majority in the State will not be less than twenty thousand. The Democrats, on the other hand, say the Republican majority in this city cannot be over thirteen hundred.

POLITICAL.

It is said that there are signs of some trouble in the approaching Republican State Convention in New York. At any rate, at the primaries, in many places, double sets of delegates have been elected—some "Weed" men, others "Greeley" men. That means mischief. We should suppose that Thurlow Weed had about as much right in a Republican Convention as Andrew Johnson.

The following appears in a Herald dispatch: "It is asserted that drafts to a heavy amount have been received in Washington from Ohio to be used in securing the election of Judge Dennison as Senator to succeed Ben Wade. Chief Justice Chase, Jay Cooke and the national bank interest generally, are said to be working in favor of Dennison."

Judge Kelley has finished his western campaign, and will return to Pennsylvania immediately to take part in the canvass here.

One of the largest Republican meetings ever held in Berks county, was that of Saturday evening, addressed by Senator Fisher, of Lancaster, Hon. James H. Campbell, of Schuylkill, and others. It is confidently predicted that the Copperhead majority in Berks will be reduced to 3,000. A correspondent says: "If the Republicans throughout the State will do comparatively as well as here in Old Berks, Williams's majority will not be less than 30,000."

John A. Dale, Esq., has been nominated by the Republicans of Forest county for Associate Judge. He is said to be a good selection.

PERSONAL.

—A new wonder has appeared on the Paris stage. Her name is Albert. The story is told that one evening the orchestra failed to appear, but she went on and played a vaudeville full of snatches of song without any other accompaniment than the plaudits of the audience, without missing a note.

—General Carey, nominated for Congress by the "workingmen" of Cincinnati, counts himself among them because he drove oxen thirty-five years ago. He has been chary of manual labor since then.

—The Right Rev. Bishop Wood arrived in Philadelphia late on Friday night. He was accompanied by Rev. Fathers Martin and Shanahan. The reception of the Bishop, postponed last week, will take place on Thursday next, on the grounds of the St. John's Orphan Asylum.

—Among the passengers by the steamship City of London, which sailed from New York on Saturday, for Liverpool, are George F. Fewey, of Philadelphia, William Wilson, of Pittsburgh, and Rev. P. J. Power, of Boston. On the Europe for Brest and Havre, W. B. Kittell, T. Cherroiat, and P. P. Corse, of Philadelphia, and Rev. J. A. Christy, Paris. In the Cambria, for Southampton, Havre and Hamburg, L. and E. Edwards and T. Lovnisky, Philadelphia.

—General Banks, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, has accepted the invitation of Senor Romero to accompany him to Mexico. A similar invitation has been extended to Senator Morton. They expect to leave on the 5th of October.

—The musical part of Paris is greatly excited at present over the advent of four sisters from Sweden. In describing the voices of the young ladies, whose family name is Gronsberg, the critics are unusually eulogistic. Their dress also excites a good deal of admiration, and one enthusiastic gentleman thinks their style of head-dress resembles that of the Sphynx. They speak German very well, but not French.

—Charles D. Harris, brother of Colonel L. D. Harris, of the Ohio Farmer, in Cincinnati, shot his only son, twenty-two years old, at Kent, Portage county, on Friday night. The wound is pronounced fatal. A difficulty about money caused the horrible crime. Harris was arrested.

Mr. Fawcett, the late owner of Dexter, has retired from the turf business, and on Monday sold off the rest of his fast trotters, including Silas Rich and Fannie King.

The tragedian Murdoch, at his benefit in Cincinnati, announced his intention to retire from the stage after this season, and engage in teaching elocution.

—A new book by Queen Victoria has been printed, and will shortly be given to the public. Her Majesty describes, in her own fresh and feminine style, a series of journeys, chiefly made by the royal party in Scotland. A good deal of guide book matter is thrown into the narrative, and there are many pleasant references to her traveling companions and servants. From this book the public will learn something authentic about Prince Consort's gillie, who has recently attained a sort of grotesque notoriety in England.

—The fashionable part of London, known as Belgravia, is owned by the Marquis of Westminister, who has an income of £1,000 a day. With the ordinary rise in value, Lord Belgrave, his grandson, aged twelve, will be the richest man in the world. A nice thing to think of.

WESTERN NEWS.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: The crop of winter wheat has doubtless been overestimated, but the fear of not being able to start another crop this fall is what is keeping wheat back from market in this region. We have had no rain worthy of mention since the middle of July. The ground is parched and too hard to be worked, and should this continue much longer, the question of next year's crop of winter wheat will be settled in advance.

In the dedicatory prayer of a new Mormon church in Utah, Elder Taylor invoked a blessing upon every part of the building, naming them in order, from the foundation stones to the "shingles, locks and fastening of the doors," and the "tin, zinc or other materials used upon the roof," the paint, varnish, putty and nails.

The fourth anniversary of the issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation by President Lincoln was celebrated on Monday by the colored population of Springfield, Illinois, who turned out in large numbers, and paraded the streets in procession dressed in regalia, and headed by two bands of music. The children of the colored schools and a large number of men and women of the same complexion formed a part of the demonstration. The ceremony passed off very orderly.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

It is reported that the supply of mackerel at Gloucester is less than the demand, the market being more poorly stocked than ever before. A fleet of boats and a fresh impetus are expected soon.

It is believed that the "black death," which has built all the efforts of Irish physicians to discover the cause, is caused by eating the flesh of diseased cattle.

The New York Evening Post has a correspondent who states that carbolic acid has recently been successfully used near Rahway, N. J., for the extermination of mosquitoes and flies. A small piece of cloth saturated with the acid was hung up in a room, and in two hours the flies had entirely disappeared. In the evening the acid was tried in the kitchen, where the mosquitoes were very troublesome, with like success. He thinks the remedy worth trying in all places where mosquitoes are troublesome.

In Missouri trouble is reported between the regular members and the lobby members of the State Legislature. A lobbyist has sued a member to recover $11,000, which the former alleges that the latter promised to pay him for services in lobbying a bill which failed. Of course the developments at the trial will be interesting.

The recent strikes among the coal miners in the interior of Pennsylvania, it is reported, have resulted in a reduction of wages, which now average about nine dollars a week.

The prevalent feeling in financial circles in New York is that we shall have a pretty close market for some time to come. The South will soon commence drawing currency to move the cotton, and the banks at the same time will be sailing close to the wind in order to give their October statements as favorable a look as possible.

A letter from Houston, Texas, dated September 16, says: "For six weeks our city has been sprinkled profusely with lime, and that best of disinfectants, carbolic acid. Wood and tar fires have been built nightly on the streets by order of the authorities, giving to the city at night a lurid and terribly mournful appearance. And yet these precautions have seemingly been useless. The epidemic now stalks among us in its most deadly form, and human effort for its stay seems unavailing. Some of our best physicians have succumbed to the disease, while others are worn out with their constant attention upon patients. The great cry is for nurses! nurses! Many who had the fever are taking it again."

Education in Italy.

Some interesting and instructive facts are developed by Italian documents in regard to the organization of schools. For instance, the astounding fact that of the 21,776,950 inhabitants of Italy there are still 16,999,651 that can neither read nor write. Only 1,314,928 children are in attendance in the schools, i. e., scarcely one-sixteenth of the population! Of all the nations of Europe (Turkey, of course, excluded) Italy has the smallest proportion of children in the schools, being 2½ per cent. below either Austria or Spain. Bavaria has the most. Still there is progress in Italy, for in 1862 the number of schools was only 30,163, in 1864, 39,080; in 1866, 43,767. In 1864 there were 42,869 teachers; in 1866, 44,211. Italy has twenty-one universities and twenty-four lyceums (equivalent to our colleges), which are supported by the general government. For the primary schools the provinces have to provide. It is a somewhat singular fact that Italy, of all lands on earth the most devoutly Catholic, provides nothing for the education of its priests, not one of the universities has a theological faculty, and the priests are all educated in their own episcopal schools. How it will be in the future, if the church property all passes into the hands of the State, remains to be seen.

WORKINGMEN, remember you vote, when casting your ballot for Judge Williams, for the right of labor as well as for the life of liberty. Sharswood is an original free trader, which means subjecting the labor of the country to the unfair competition of European manufacturers. He is also a States Rights Democrat, which implies and means the enslavement of labor, the buying and selling of laboring men as beasts of burden are bought and sold.

OFFICE OF THE PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES,
September 19, 1867.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PITTSBURGH:

The Board of Officers of the Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company of the United States have great pleasure in announcing the opening of their lines to Cincinnati and Louisville.

In accordance with the equity which they believe should prevail between this corporation and the public in all charges for the transmission of messages over the wires of this company, they have ordered a reduction of rates from those heretofore customary between Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and intermediate points, and have also directed a reduction to be made in the rates to New York.

The consistency with which this company have endeavored to serve the public, not only by a prompt transmission of messages, but by endeavoring to reduce the cost of telegraphing, entitles them to a more request from this community a continuation of that patronage which has so far cheered the Board of officers in their endeavors to establish a permanent independent telegraph line, which, while profitable to the stockholders, from the good will of the public, should be equally remunerative to the public from a steady cheapening of the cost for the transmission of messages.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

☞HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—To Mothers.—Thousands of lovely females, in the Spring-time of woman hood, have been rescued from an untimely grave by the agency of these medicines. When the sprightliness of the romp is changed to apathy and internal suffering, and the glow of health to the yellow hue of cankering disease it is a crisis which requires the maternal attention and solicitude, and for which the pills will be found an efficient remedy. They are equally efficacious in the autumn or turn of life—the most critical period of woman's existance. Sold by all Druggists.

☞HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT IN AMERICA.—This Celebrated Health Beverage, having been lately introduced into our country, sustains a reputation We advise all sick as well as healthy to use it, as it is really the best tonic, as the report made by the special committee of three, to the New York Academy of Medicine states, and as is proved by Europe. (New York Express.) To Mr. Hoff. 542 Broadway, New York: (Extracts of Letters:) Mr. Wm. Moller, 20 West 10th street, New York, cured of dyspepsia. Mr. R. B. Lewis, 4 Beekman street, of sore throat. Mrs. Arnold Fuller, 129 Wooster street, of weakness of the stomach. Mr. Ph. Bender, New Haven, of consumption. Try it and you will be satisfied. It gives strength to the weakest appetite to the convalescent, sleep to the invalid, and hope and health and joy to the sick. "My daughter, Clarissa since I am using your Extract of Malt," writes Mr. John Zeltler, of New York, No. 168 East 14th street.

"If my daughter, who suffered from consumption, misses (your) Hoff's Malt Extract but one day, there is a relapse of her old complaint and a return of her physical weakness." Garibaldi's Speech at Geneva.—The Spanish Insurrection.

NEW YORK, September 24.—The Java's mails arrived from Boston to-night. The following is Garibaldi's speech at his reception at Geneva:

"This is not the first time I have had occasion to testify my gratitude to the brave republican people of Switzerland. In Italy, when Italy, my country, was unhappy and groaned under a foreign yoke; when my friends and myself were proscribed by tyrants, here on this sacred soil of liberty we sought and found an asylum. (Applause.) Here we found a refuge for the refuge which this generous people gives to the Democracy of the entire world. Here your ancestors had the courage to form the first attack on the pestilent, insolent and called the Papacy. (Prolonged applause.) From you, citizens of this Geneva become so magnificent, who struck the first blows at Papal Rome, from you is no longer the initiative. I demand, but to complete the work of your forefathers, when we shall give the final blow to the monster.

You will perhaps smile at Garibaldi coming to Geneva to recommend concord, and yet I do advise it, because concord among free hands on Helvetic soil, represents also concord among free men in every country. Your concord, therefore, is of universal interest, but if your liberty is ever menaced, we also, free men of other countries, will come and bring our rifles for its defense. (Cheers.) Adieu, then, adieu. I thank you from my heart for your excellent reception. Adieu, adieu."

The London Times' Paris correspondence says the Spanish Government is on the full career of reprisals. Pezula had published an amnesty unlimited as one means of putting an end to the insurrection. Narvaez, unfettered by the pledges of his Lieutenants, has signed the amnestied by the thousand, and ships them off to the Philipines or Fernando Po. Seven or eight hundred prisoners have already been shipped from Catalonia.

PROVIDENCE IN ALL THINGS.—How the hand of the Great Ruler is in the affairs of this world, even its most trivial, as we are accustomed to call them, is forcibly illustrated by an incident referred to by ex-Governor Bradford in his oration at the dedication of the Lexington Cemetery. It is taken from a rebel publication, and is as follows:

While General Lee moved to Boonsboro' and Hagerstown to await Jackson's operations, there curiously fell into the hands of the enemy a copy of the order which General Lee had prepared at Frederick, detailing with exactitude the proposed movements of the several portions of his army. The paper had been conveyed to Gen. D. H. Hill, who, from some cause of dissatisfaction, and in a characteristic fit of impatience, tossed it to the ground, saying there forgotten. It was picked up by a soldier of the Federal army, and forwarded at once to General McClellan, who thus became possessed of the exact details of his adversary's plan of operations.

Ewer & Long, No. 91 Ohio street, Allegheny, have now in store a most excellent assortment of fall dry goods, which they call the attention of our readers on the North to which the attention of our readers on the North side is invited. MANCHESTER RAILWAY.—The regading and paving of Lasock street, Allegheny, having been completed, the cars on the Rebecca street line of the Manchester Passenger Railway have resumed their regular through trips. The route has been greatly improved under the management of Superintendent Kohnatz.

A. V. R. R.—The Allegheny Valley Railroad Company will put a locomotive and cars on the northern end of their road early next week. The line is finished between Kittanning and Franklin, and the work is progressing favorably along the whole line. It is expected that cars will run over the full length of the road, during the month of November.

G. A. R. CONVENTION To-NIGHT.—A convention of the six Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in the District of Allegheny county, will be held this evening at Apollo Building, on Fourth street. Major-General John W. Geary, Governor of the State, will be present, the mere announcement of which is sufficient to crowd the hall.

CHAMPIONSHIP B. B. MATCH.—The last of the series of matches to decide the championship of Western Pennsylvania, between the Enterprise and Lincoln Base Ball Clubs, of this city will take place at the Union Park, Allegheny, Friday afternoon, at two o'clock. Both clubs are in good condition, and shall claim the honor of being champion, and an exciting and both contested match may be expected.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—A meeting of the Union Republican County Executive Committee was held yesterday afternoon, the Chairman, J. H. Miller, Esq., presiding, and C. C. Taylor, Esq., acting as Secretary. Meetings were appointed to be held at the Diamond, Birmingham, on Saturday evening next; at Mansfield, on Monday evening next; and at New Texas, in Plum township, on Wednesday, October 2d. The Committee on Speakers were notified to provide speakers for the meetings. Some business of a local and private nature was acted, and the committee adjourned to meet at Mr. Taylor's office this afternoon.

THE "P. R." IN BROWNSTOWN.—On Sunday afternoon last two representatives of the Emerald Isle, residing in Brownstown, agreed to settle a dispute which had long existed between them, by indulging in a little fistical, under the rules of the prize ring. For this purpose they adjourned to the bank of the Monongahela river, immediately back of the American Iron Works, where a ring was formed, with enough spectators present to satisfy all disposed. The principals removed a portion of their wearing apparel, and then "battle" commenced. Several rounds were fought, occupying about fifteen minutes, when some kind-hearted individual stepped in and quelled the fight. Both "bruisers" were badly used up, and presented a demoralized appearance.

ORATORIO OF "CHRIST ON MT. OLIVET."—Rehearsals of the oratorio of "Christ on Mt. Olivet," which has been in active rehearsal for the past six weeks, will be given at the Academy of Music on Thursday evening. Owing to the recent affliction in the family of Miss Lina Beckenstein, it was thought she would be prevented from taking part in the oratorio, but being a sacred concert and at the importunity of friends of the lady, she has kindly advised that she should sing the part of "Seraph," Messrs. Applebaum, Lehr and Breth will also have principal characters, and a grand chorus of one hundred of the best vocalists in the city, including the Harmonic and Frohsinn Societies, aided by a powerful orchestra, will take part. The oratorio will be given under the direction of Prof. Hugo Mueller, late of Grover's grand opera troupe, and promises to be the grandest affair of the kind ever given in the city.

Court Proceedings.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

[Before Judge Sterrett.]

THE HIGHWAY ROBBERY CASE.

Upon the assembling of the Court yesterday morning, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Wm. Fitzpatrick and Hugh Feely, indicted for highway robbery, which was on trial at adjournment on Monday, was resumed. After a brief argument by the District Attorney, the case was submitted to the jury by the Court, who charged them that although the money stolen was small, yet this did not alter the principle of the case, and that if the jury believed it had been taken by the defendants with the intention of appropriating it, they were just as guilty of robbery as though the pocket book had contained a thousand dollars, instead of one cent. The jury retired, and, after a brief absence, returned with a verdict of guilty as to Feely and not guilty as to Fitzgerald. Feely was then called up for sentence and denied taking the articles. At the instance of Mr. Kirkpatrick, Fitzgerald was sworn and took the stand, which, however, did not differ materially from the bulk of the evidence produced on the trial. Sentence was deferred.

A BIGAMY CASE.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. George Printer, indicted for bigamy, was taken up. The prosecuting witness in this case was Mrs. Printer, wife of the defendant, and widow of the late Colonel McKean, of Allegheny. From the evidence produced at the trial, it appears that the defendant was married at St. Paul's Cathedral, in this city, on the 20th of November, 1865, to one Catharine O'Brien. On the 7th of March last, while his first wife was living, he was married by a minister in Allegheny, to Mrs. McKean, the prosecuting witness, and lived with her in the secret until June. The prosecutrix lived with the defendant at Hulton's Bottom for a short time ago, when she ascertained that Printer had another wife living. She then brought suit against Printer, before Alderman Marks, and had him arrested. He was then Commonwealth called several witnesses, among whom was Mrs. Printer, who gave testimony the first wife. Several with sons were called for the defense, on behalf of the defendant, after which the latter retired, and after a few minutes absence returned with a verdict of guilty. The defendant was then sentenced by the court to pay a fine of one hundred dollars to the Commonwealth, the costs of the prosecution and to undergo imprisonment for one year in the Western Penitentiary. The prisoner was then remanded to jail.

FALSE PRETENSES.

Nicholas Bennett was arraigned on a charge of false pretenses—Robert Faulkner, Enterprise and Lincoln Base Ball Clubs, of this city will take place at the Union Park, Allegheny, Friday afternoon, at two o'clock. Both clubs are in good condition, and shall claim the honor of being champion, and an exciting and both contested match may be expected.

Bennett is a livery stable keeper on the corner of Water street and Gay alley, Allegheny, and it was alleged that some time ago the defendant, who was in the habit of hiring horses from Faulkner, had obtained from deponent the use of a horse and buggy, by representing that he wished to go to Sharpsburg a short time ago, when he
